Background	I currently work as a TV broadcast server operator and TV producer, a key role in the audiovisual field. As a broadcast server operator, I am responsible for managing and supervising the servers that broadcast television programs. I ensure the technical quality of the broadcast signals, ensuring smooth and uninterrupted transmission. At the same time, as a TV producer, I am in charge of the artistic direction of the programs. You work closely with the production teams to design, plan, and supervise the staging of the programs. My role includes camera management, coordination of technical teams, and directing the actors, while ensuring that each program adheres to the defined creative vision.
