Background	From the Fields of Punjab to the Farms of Italy: My Journey in Agriculture My name is Gurpreet Singh, and for over seven years, my life has been dedicated to the land of Amritsar, Punjab. My story in agriculture is one of complete immersion. I haven't just farmed; I have lived and breathed every element of this vital industry. I understand the rhythm of the seasons, having nurtured crops from planting through harvest. I know the morning ritual of a dairy farm and the meticulous care required for a thriving poultry operation. I have felt the hum of a tractor engine, using it not just as a machine, but as a essential partner in working the land and moving its bounty. For me, agriculture is a single, interconnected ecosystem where the success of the crop is tied to the health of the livestock and the efficiency of the machinery. It is this holistic, hands-on philosophy that I am excited to bring to Italy. I am not just a crop specialist or a livestock manager; I am a well-rounded farming professional, ready to contribute to every aspect of your operations and embrace the rich agricultural traditions of my new home.
